FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1895.

Subscription, $1.25 per year.

W. STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce

Dr. A. D. JAMES,

Of Muhlenberg county, as a candidate for State Senator in the 8th Senatorial District, subject to the action of the Republican party.

REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce

Esq. W. I. Rowe,

Of Centertown, as a candidate to represent Ohio county in the Lower House of the next General Assembly, subject to the action of the Republican party.

It is rumored that another Republican candidate for Representative from this county will announce in a short time. So far Esq. W. I. Rowe is the only candidate.

HOPKINSVILLE will entertain the next session of the Kentucky Press Association and a trip to the Atlanta Exposition is among the probable treats for the knights of the pen.

THE people sympathize with the Governor of the State in the sharing Tuesday's tragedy upon his family but who will sympathize with a State where such innumerable and blood-draining highlife tragedies are enacted.

THE meeting of the Kentucky Republican Clubs held in Owensboro Wednesday and yesterday was quite a success. Much enthusiasm prevailed and the meeting augurs well for an active and thorough campaign in every part of the State.

FULTON Gordon wiped out in blood the wrong he suffered and we can conceive of no just censure for his deed. He ought to have killed them both and he did it handsomely. Now let the jury acquit him as it should do and thus set an example to the villain who go about seeking the homes they may destroy.

KENTUCKY is promised a battle royal in the contest for U. S. Senator on the Democratic side of the house. With Buekner, Blackburn, McCreary and Brown as starters, it will make a political Derby of more than ordinary interest. Buekner, the sage of Glen Lily, and the hero of Fort Donelson, is the best man in the bunch and deserves to win the empty honors of the caucus nomination.

THE awful tragedy which occurred at Louisville at noon Tuesday should prove a warning to erring men and women. Fulton Gordon the wronged and frenzied husband took desperate revenge and his war-justifiable in his act but that cannot bring back the once happy home which a beautiful woman and her paramour have destroyed. Sin may delay the payment of its wages but when it does come it is death.

"A tree is known by its fruits" is a truth of universal application. It is a moral yardstick by which every man and every institution may be accurately measured. If one were about plaiting a tree on his premises would he not inquire as to its fruit? What the tree good for? Does it bear regularly and is it of a variety that guarantees it to be worth the space it occupies and the outlay necessary in planting? Is it good or bad? Is its fruit pleasant to the taste and does it contain nourishment for the body or does it bear a blighted, unisightly and nauseating fruit? Does its bloom fill the air with fragrant or with disagreeable and disgusting odors? No sensible man would think for a moment of planting a tree in his yard or garden nor on his farm whose fruits would be bad, worthless, disagreeable, not useful for some purpose. Now if it be wise for individuals to set so, is it not equally wise for communities to exercise the same caution in their planting? In view of these observations and in the light of these everyday and common sense truths, let's look at a tree planting Hartford is called upon to make and inquire whether the tree comes up to the measurement required of trees planted by individuals. The tree proposed to be planted in the town is of a well known variety. The proprietor of the nursery from which it hails has succeeded in planting many trees like it over the earth and in fact has had such trees here until the people rooted them up a few years ago. What is this proposed tree good for? What are its fruits? When it grew here before and everywhere else it has grown or wherever it is growing now, its fruit is and has been ever the same. So then if planted here it cannot be expected to change the character of its fruit. If it be good it will remain good, if bad, bad. The leopard cannot change his spots. The fruits of this tree are disorder, drunkenness, law-breaking, violence, crime, poverty, want, misery, heart-aches, tears, bloodshed, murder, disgrace, graves and death. Its bloom is the blight of manhood, its fragrance the ruin of youth. Its every fruit and every influence is evil and degrading. Will Hartford plant the tree? God forbid!

MISS'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

The Coronado Jury in the case of Fulton Gordon at Louisville brought in a verdict Wednesday evening justifiable homicide and he was released on a bond of $3,000 in both cases. He is yet suffering from nervous prostration and it is feared he will become insane.

AFTER robbing about 20,000 voters of the right of suffrage the Democratic Legislature of Tennessee over the protest of the best men of all parties, has seated Turney, the man whom Evans defeated at the polls for the Governorship of the State last November. This is, if possible, a more flagrant steal than the one committed in Louisville in the name of law, by which Mr. St. John Boyle was denied the seat on the Appellate bench to which he had been elected by his fellow citizens.

THEY are no question save that of the offices on which the Democratic party is a unit. The party is in favor of getting and holding the offices at any and all hazards, but on everything else Democracy is split into factions, which rend each other with all the ferocity known to American politics. So accustomed has that party become to internal broils and contests and dissatisfaction that in viewing the harmony pervading the Republican party, both as to principle and management, Democratic bosses and editors are wont to turn a verdant green. Not satisfied at being green—with envy—or from causes over which it has no control and prompted also, no doubt, by the theory that misery loves company, the Herald would fain forget the broils and bickering in the ranks of its own party and seek to sow the seed of discord in the ranks of the Republicans by casting insinuations upon the management of the Republican Club recently organized here. Is the Herald not aware that the Club organized here did not contain every Republican in the county nor 300 or 400 good and substantial Republicans who would do honor to the party as representatives? The Club was only lately organized with about 100 members and wasentitled to send but 1 delegate for every 10 members or 10 delegates in all. The promoters of this club would have been glad had the whole 2,500 Republicans in the county belonged to the Ohio County Republican Club, or some other like club, and thus the county would have been entitled to send 250 delegates. But the Herald is not supposed to deal with any matter that savors of a fact. And a paper of the Herald's caliber whose highest aim has been that its party might rise not by its own merits but upon the sough for downfall of its political opponents, has less and less weight in the community as the days come and go, and in view of the fact that from a majority of 600 to 800 the Herald has in a few years led its party to a minority of 300 or 400, that sheet and its sentiments will merit still less notice and consideration.

THE Populist Convention. Monday's Courier Journal says:

"The Populist committee that was appointed last week to make arrangements for the approaching convention met yesterday afternoon at Wibble's printing shop, on Market street, near Hancock. The State convention will take place May 15, and it is reported by State Secretary W. P. Marsh, of Lawrenceburg, that 'a thousand delegates will be in attendance.' There will be nine delegates from Jefferson county.

ON May 11 the county convention will be held. Every precinct in both county and city will be represented. The meeting will take place in Labor Hall and will be called to order at noon."

LARUE COUNTY REPUBLICANS.

HODGENVILLE, Ky., April 29.

The Republicans of Larue county met on Saturday, the 27th, in convention, with Dr. G. D. Snock in the Chair, and T. B. Kirkpatrick, Secretary.

The convention passed suitable resolutions and appointed Cad Burh,

Dr. G. D. Snock, J. A. Basham, T.

J. Wilkin, f.d. Salter and Wayne Watson as delegates to the State convention at Louisville.

The delegates were instructed for Bradley for Governor; Long Treasurer; Walton, Auditor, and Mentz, Railroad Commissioner.

The convention also endorsed Hon. John W Lewis for United States Senator.

Then Gordon slipped upstairs and pushed open the door which had been locked by Brown and Mrs. Gordon.

As he did so Brown sprang from the bed, having on nothing but his underdrawers. Without a word Gordon began firing. Brown had his pistol lying near and seized it and returned the fire. Gordon soon emptied his revolver, and then sprang on Brown and clutched his pistol. A scuffle then ensued for the possession of the weapon. In the scuffle every piece of furniture in the room was turned over and blood from Brown's wounds bespattered the walls and floor. Gordon got the weapon and fired one shot into Brown's body, and Brown sank to the floor dead.

Just then, Mrs. Gordon, who had been watching the conflict, sprang at her husband in a terrible fury. The latter turned and fired one shot at her just as she grappled with him. The bullet hit her just over the heart. Mrs. Gordon turned and ran. Just as she reached the head of the stairs Gordon fired at her again and hit her on the right side of the body. Gordon then ran to the head of the stairs, and snapped the pistol again, but all the loads had been discharged.

Just then Officers Reilly and La-peilie came up and arrested him.

He said: "I caught them in the act, and shot them both."

Gordon was at once taken back to the scene of the killing, and placed on a lounge in the hall. He was covered with blood and seemed to be injured, but was revived and said he was simply in a faint.

Brown was found lying in the southwest corner of the room, where he was shot, right beneath the window.

A chair was standing by him,

and the body was lying doubled up with the head between the wall and the dresser, which stood in the corner.

CATARH OF THE KIDNEYS.

Sometimes Called Bright's Disease—Dr. Hartman's Latest Lecture.

In the course of a recent lecture at the Surgical Hotel Dr. Hartman said:

"Catarh of the Kidneys is a very common disease, growing more and more common each year. The symptoms are pain in the back; scanty, high-colored urine, containing albumen and various sediments; nausea, and sometimes vomiting; puffiness of the face and feet; dropy of the legs; shortness of breath and general weakness, palor and dryness of the skin, chilly feelings, alternating with fever and sleeplessness."

"A table-spoonful of Pe-n-na should be taken before each meal, between meals and at bedtime, and enough Man-u-lin to produce one natural action of the bowels each day. When the disease is of long-standing heated Pe-n-na should be applied to the back in addition to the above treatment, and the diet consist principally of milk and dry toast. Avoid liquors and tobacco."

MEDICAL BOOK FREE.

The Pe-n-na Drug Manufacturing Co. of Columbus, Ohio, are offering free, post-paid, two medical books, one on catarh and catarhal diseases, the other on spring medicines and spring disease. These books contain the very latest and most reliable information on these important subjects.

For free book on cancer address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Daviess County Convention.

The Convention was called to order by Chairman J. F. Kinly, who stated the object of the meeting. Lawson Ross was elected Chairman and P. H. Haff, Secretary. A committee on resolutions was appointed with F. H. Roberts as chairman. While the committee was getting ready to report, E. T. Franks addressed the convention.

The resolutions reaffirm the Republican platform of 1892, and is opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. That part of the resolution which endorsed W. O. Bradley for governor was received with loud applause from the large and enthusiastic convention.

The resolutions were adopted with every man in the convention standing on his feet and yelling for Bradley. The delegates go to the convention at Louisville uninstructed as to the rest of the ticket, but it is understood that they are for Taylor for Attorney General, N. B. Chambers for Register of the Land Office, and J. W. Long for Treasurer.

Rudyard Kipling to Return to India. Rudyard Kipling will shortly return to India where he will prepare for The Cosmopolitan twelve articles to appear in the American and English editions of that magazine. India is one of the most interesting of countries, and Mr. Kipling is able to write of it as no one else. His work will be looked forward to with worldwide expectation.

Perhaps the most beautiful series of pictures ever presented of the Rocky mountains will be found in a collection of fourteen original paintings, executed by Thomas Moran for the May Cosmopolitan. To those who have been in the Rockies, this issue of The Cosmopolitan will be a souvenir worthy of preservation. This number contains fifty-two original drawings, by Thomas Moran, Oliver Jeffers, Dan Beard, H. M. Eaton, F. G. Atwood, F. O. Small, F. L. J. H. Dolph, and Rosina Emmett Sherwood, besides six reproductions of famous recent works of art, and forty other interesting illustrations—ninety-eight in all. Though the Cosmopolitan sells for fifteen cents, probably no magazine in the world will present for May so great a number of illustrations specially designed for its pages by famous illustrators. The fiction in this number is by F. Hopkinson Smith, Gustav Kobbé, W. Clark Russell, Edgar W. Nye, and T. C. Crawford.

The English Chamber of Commerce. At the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom, which was held from March 12 to March 14, Sir Albert K. Rollit, president, said:

American Tariff Reform has notwithstanding the adverse influence of the resurrection of the silver question so far stimulated our export of cotton goods as to have doubled their value in February as against January, to have increased the quantity from eleven to eighteen million yards during 1895 as against the corresponding period of 1894, and to have made this year's shipments exceed those of two years ago in both quantity and value. Similarly there have been larger linen shipments to the States for both the last month and the two months of the present year, while in woolen the advance in values has been three times and in worsteds four times more than in 1894, and in quantity quite 400 per cent. So, too, the same beneficial influence has made itself in great increases during the month and year and in both quantity and values of our consignments to America of cutlery, rails and iron and steel goods generally, and more especially of tin plates, as also in earthenware and chinaware, to the extent of 600 per cent., in shipments of raw wool.

The proceedings of the third day terminated with a banquet. Mr. J. P. THOMPSON, HARTFORD, KY.

Wilson was not present upon this occasion, but we were represented by Mr. Bayard who was toasted as the Ambassador of the United States of America, his name being coupled with that of Hon. James Bryce, M.P., president of the Board of Trade. In returning thanks, Mr. Bryce said:

"There are signs of revival in trade, particularly in that which is the greatest of our markets and the closest with which we are in direct touch, viz., the United States of America. We owe to the settlement of the Tariff question, I cannot help congratulating our friends, Mr. Bayard, about that, and asking him to congratulate the great man whom he represents here in his dealings with that Tariff question. (Hear, hear.) Our trade with the United States is a reviving trade, and particularly felt in Yorkshire; and it will soon spread, I have reason to believe to other parts of the country and other branches of our industry.

We regret that Mr. Bayard's remarks were not published; hence it is impossible to say how he accepted the congratulations upon revival in English trade which Mr. Bryce said were due to the settlement of the Tariff question in the United States and at our expense.—[Economist.]

Thirty Thousand Dollars in Authors. For "Story of Mystery." The Chicago Record's recently inaugurated publication of serial stories cleverly constructed so as to enlist the reader's interest in the discovery of a well-concealed mystery, disclosed only in the last chapter, has been received with such great favor by its readers that it is impelled to secure for their entertainment the best work of the best living story-writers in the English language. To this end it makes the following announcement:

The Chicago Record offers to authors the sum of $30,000 for original stories written in English, no parts of which have ever been heretofore published.

The offer is made upon the following conditions: $20,000 will be paid in two cash prizes for the best twelve stories. The money will be divided as follows: First Prize $10,000 Second Prize $3,000 Third Prize $1,500 Fourth Prize $1,000 Fifth Prize $800 Two Prizes of $600 each, 1,200 Five Prizes of $500 each, 2,500. Making a total of $20,000. The first prize will be paid for the story adjudged to be the best, the second prize for the story adjudged the next best, the third prize for the story adjudged to be the third in merit, the fourth prize for the fourth in merit, fifth prize for the fifth in merit, two prizes of $600 each and five prizes of $500 each, thus making the total of twelve prizes in $20,000.

$10,000 additional will be paid at space rates for stories of accepted vaue, but which may not be awarded any of the twelve cash prizes.

The stories submitted in this competition are required to be "stories of mystery," in order that readers may be offered prizes for guessing the solutions of the mystery in advance of their publication.

The stories must reach The Chicago Record, at its office of publication,

181 Madison Street, Chicago, Ill., before October 1, 1895, and the awards will be made as soon after that date as they can be read and judged. For full information authors will address

New Church.

The first M. E. Church of Beaver Dam will be dedicated on the first Sunday in May by Rev. J. W. Turner, of Louisville. There will be services at 10:30 a. m., 3:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. on Sunday. Everybody in the county is invited to attend with a well filled basket, and bring someone with you. Now, we hope the people will understand that all are invited to come, regardless of name or order. There will be other men of ability in attendance, so everyone will have an opportunity to hear some able preaching. Come, yours,
